The Cloud Phone System of the Future – Today

Nextiva understands the importance of voice communications for insurance agencies.

- Integrate your office and mobile phone for seamless communications with the bank, colleagues, attorneys and customers.
- Agents can be reached on their mobile, office, or home numbers through the simplicity of one phone number.
- Agents can manage incoming and outgoing messages, maintain up-to-date appointment information and configure controls on calls and voicemail.

All of Your Business Communications – One Source

From voice to video, stay in touch with your clients, whether you are in the office or on the go.

- Swap calls between your desk and cell phone with no hold time.
- Make calls from any device, landline, cell or soft-phone and the caller ID says you're calling from your office phone.
- Auto Attendant acts as an automated receptionist while you're away.

Monitor Your Productivity from Anywhere

Gain the freedom that comes with cloud-based unified communications. So much more than a dial-tone, NextOS provides instant access to your agency's lifeline.

- Call Logs that allow you to view complete records of all phone usage, incoming and outgoing, within your Nextiva Office Manager control panel. This allows for easy tracking of conversations and appointments.
- In the rare case of disaster, calls will automatically be forwarded to back up number.
- Simple Conferencing utilizes a simple "click-to-connect" call initiation for up to fourteen simultaneous participants without the necessity of a conference deck.
